

CNR PLANNING IMPROVEMENT IN VALLEY PASSENGER SERVICE

VERNON (Staff) — The Canadian National Railway is planning to improve its train service in and out of Vernon by adding a "Day-Liner" car. Announcement was made to Vernon City Hall by CNR official R. A. Wyman, of Vancouver. Date of the inauguration of the new service is not yet known.

City Hall spokesmen said they believe the "Day-Line Coach" will run between Kelowna and Kamloops and meet the trans-continental mainline train there.

ESTIMATES APPROVED

Socreds Clear Major Hurdles

VICTORIA (CP) — Premier Bennett's Social Credit government cleared two major hurdles in its steady drive toward re-election late this month.

The legislature approved estimates of more than $15,000,000 for the lands and forests department, gave third and final readings to 11 bills and second readings—approval in principle—to 13 more during nine hours of debate.

But the government was almost caught with its absenteeism showing less than 25 minutes before the house finally rose at 12:30 a.m. PST. The CCF, taking advantage of the fact opposition members outnumbered them on the government side, moved to suspend debate until this afternoon and thus upset the government's plans of clearing department estimates before the house rose.

Chairman William Sparrow (SC-Cariboo) called the question, but delayed the decision until government reinforcements returned to the house to stop the CCF move.

Debate on government forest and hydro power policies highlighted the debate.

Liberal Gordon Gibson, who represents North Vancouver, asked the government to take back tree farm licences and establish a practice that would give small logging operators equal opportunity in developing the province's forest resources.

He received partial support from three government backbenchers.

Mr. Gibson said the tree farm licence policy was conceived in sin and selfishness and was based on inaccurate estimates of timber resources.

He suggested the whole industry be investigated by a commission headed by H. R. MacMillan of Macmillan, Bloedel and Powell River Company.

Mr. Gibson told the legislature that major companies holding tree farm licences would not object if they were revoked as long as the government assured them of a steady supply at the going market price.

Forests Minister Ray Williston later said he still believes Peace and Columbia River power can be developed simultaneously.

"Cheap power from the Columbia will never be sold to the detriment of the people of British Columbia."

The minister, one of the chief B.C. negotiators in the drafting of the international treaty on the Columbia development scheme, made the comment during a debate on power opened in the legislature late Tuesday night.

During a heavy question period flared on both sides of the house.

SECOND BEST?

The flare-ups developed over whether or not British Columbia forced the federal government into accepting a second-best agreement on the Columbia treaty.

"That's a pretty cheap statement," Mr. Williston said.

Opposition leader Robert Strachan said Justice Minister Fulton had stated that B.C. forced Ottawa into accepting a second-best treaty.

Mr. Williston said B.C. had acted on the advice of the best technical people available.

The minister challenged the CCF to produce technical advice that would counter the government's position.

'Like Films'

LONDON (AP)—The spy trial jury in the Old Bailey listened rapidly today as Scotland Yard described tricks of a trade straight out of a thriller film.

Testifying against three men and two women charged with stealing Royal Navy secrets and passing them to the Russians, a detective described a "spy nest" house in which he said he found:

A radio transmitter, buried beneath rubble, capable of sending direct to Moscow.

A secret compartment in a cigarette lighter that contained instructions for using the radio.

Sets of "one-time" message pages made of a special material that dissolved as soon as it was out near heat.

A list of numbers, used for coding messages.

A belt with $300 sewed inside it.

Life Sentence

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A white-haired grandmother Tuesday was sent to prison for life for forging a $38 cheque.

An all-male jury found Mrs. Myrtle Veronica Terber, 69, guilty of being an habitual criminal.

She put her head in her arms and sobbed at the verdict, returned 17 minutes after the jurors left the courtroom.

The prosecution offered proof that Mrs. Terber was convicted of forgery at Dallas in 1938 and here in 1955.

LATE FLASHES

South Africans 'Shocked'

JOHANNESBURG (Reuters)—Shock, surprise and resentment were the immediate reaction today of the news that South Africa will leave the Commonwealth. The stock market was expected to be heavily shaken.

Algeria Negotiations Set

PARIS (Reuters) — The French government today declared its desire for the opening of official negotiations with the Algerian insurgents.

Postal Rates Increased

OTTAWA (CP) — Increases in postal rates on Canadian newspapers and magazines mailed to the United States were announced today by Postmaster General William Hamilton. The increases become effective July 1.

South Africa Bows Out After Heated Exchange

STORM AFTERMATH

Salvage operations following a weekend tornado that ripped through Joplin, Mo., are shown in the Max Morgan home, where four persons were injured when the elements screamed through the area. Other buildings surrounding the home were heavily damaged.

Future of KGE Buildings In Hands of Directors

Kelowna Growers Exchange president George Whittaker said today plans for possible reconstruction or diversion of the packinghouses levelled Tuesday in a $900,000 fire will be decided soon at a meeting of KGE directors.

Mr. Whittaker was in Oregon Tuesday and learned of the fire when he was told: "Your plant is on fire."

Four storage buildings were destroyed in the blaze—Kelowna's biggest ever fire—and a fifth severely damaged.

Cause of the fire is as yet undetermined.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson, manager of Laurel Co-operative Union, said today: "It's a miracle our building was saved."

A Laurel packinghouse stands less than 50 feet from the destroyed KGE number five building. When the east wall of the burning building collapsed flames and sparks covered Laurel's west face.

"If there had been a wind, or no co-operation between fire fighting units, our building would have gone for sure."

Had Laurel gone, the fire might have crossed Ellis St. into the British American Oil yard, and crossed the street into the "I don't know where it would have stopped," he added.

Canada, US Still At Odds

WASHINGTON (CP)—Canada and the United States have failed to reconcile their differences over a proposed change in the Canadian tariff structure that Americans fear may hurt their huge exports to Canada.

Commerce Secretary Luther Hodges said in an interview the situation is not yet serious, but "it has the possibilities of becoming a large problem."

He was referring to the Canadian government's move to revise "class or kind" tariff definitions in a way which would give it greater power to decide the type of goods which could claim special rates of duty as being of a class or kind not made in Canada.

The opposition in Parliament has charged that the changes will boost tariffs on a wide range of imports, increasing prices to Canadian purchasers.

Hodges and his colleagues are under pressure from American manufacturers to block any Canadian tariff boosts. American authorities suggested that if Canada takes action to boost rates drastically, the U.S. will have no alternative but to reply in kind.

At the height of the blaze, men from Penticton, Vernon, Westbank, Rutland, Cedar Creek and Kelowna were fighting the fire.

Mayor Parkinson said the fire was "one of those unfortunate things that happens, but might prove a Godsend in the long run."

KGE will likely move to their number eight location and expand into a one-story operation, he said.

Today most of the thousands of spectators have gone. City and KGE crews are keeping constant streams of water on the smouldering embers.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—Russia pushed today for immediate General Assembly debate on the Congo to gain a wider hearing for its charges that the new confederation form of government developing in the African territory is a Belgian trick.

After a week of marking time since it resumed its session, the assembly showed signs of getting down to work. U.S.-Soviet negotiations to trim the agenda collapsed Tuesday, with the Russians adamant in their rejection of an American proposal to postpone most items on the agenda — and chiefly disarmament — until the fall.

The United States, in turn, rejected a Soviet proposal to drop Soviet content against U.S. reconnaissance flights if the charges of Communist suppression in Hungary and Tibet were dropped.

Soviet delegates roamed the UN corridors seeking to line up Afro-Asian support for an immediate Congo debate. The Russians charged that the agreement by anti-Communist Congolese political leaders meeting at Tananarive, Malagasy Republic, last week to replace the federal form of government in the Congo by a confederation of semi-independent states was a Belgian trick to break up the new African state and keep a foothold in rich Katanga province.

U.A.R. AGREES

The Soviet charge was echoed by the government-controlled Cairo press, which said the United Arab Republic would request an urgent session of the Security Council to "discuss the conspiracy to dismember the Congo."

They resolved unanimously to inform the provincial government of "widespread opposition" to Bill 42 which embodies the amendments. Federation of officers asked by telegram Tuesday for an immediate meeting with Labor Minister Peterson to discuss the bills.

BRUSSELS (Reuters) — The Belgian news agency reported today that two persons were killed in serious rioting in Ruhrland after a "tragic mistake" by a hospital attendant caused the death of nine sick children.

Seven other persons were injured in the riots in Uarmura, capital of the Belgian-administered African trust territory which borders on the Congo, the agency said.

The agency said an African hospital attendant failed to supervise the administration of medicine to sick children and unqualified assistants gave them doses of quinine instead of a purgative.

The nine children died Saturday.

JFK ASKS FUNDS FOR LIBBY DAM

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Kennedy today announced he is asking Congress for funds to resume detailed planning of the Libby Dam in northern Montana and said "the beginning of this project will give impetus to a new period of co-operation with Canada."

He made the announcement at a press conference where he observed that the U.S. Senate foreign relations committee gave unanimous consent Tuesday to ratification of a treaty with Canada to harness the Columbia River for power and flood control.

The treaty must also be ratified by the Canadian Parliament before it can go into operation.

Algiers Talks Seen Decisive

PARIS (Reuters) — President Charles de Gaulle is huddling with his experts on Algeria in a week that could be decisive for peace in the North African territory.

De Gaulle's meeting today with the Algerian affairs committee, including Premier Michel Debre and military chiefs, was held before a full cabinet session.

At the same time, the Algerian provisional government was meeting in Tunis to decide whether recent contacts with France — made secretly in Switzerland — justify the opening of full-scale talks to end the Algerian war.

Debre talked with de Gaulle Tuesday night after conferring with George Pompidou, a former aide of de Gaulle who was reported to have met an insurgent representative in Geneva.

The independent newspaper France — Solr said today there was an atmosphere of "prudent optimism" in French government circles.

Officially Neutral

MONTREAL (CP) — Canada was officially neutral on the formation of Israel as a nation "but we always knew which side our neutrality was for."

Former prime minister Louis St. Laurent said Tuesday night.

He told a supper launching a Montreal Israeli bond drive that the successful rise of Israel as a nation is important not only to the Middle East but to mankind generally.

The 79-year-old statesman was given a "man-of-the-year" award by Israel at the supper for exemplifying "leadership in mankind's noblest common cause, the welfare of his brother."

Macmillan Had Sought Plan To Keep Country 'In Family'

LONDON (CP) — South Africa tonight bowed out of the Commonwealth rather than agree to any change in its apartheid policy of racial segregation.

The unprecedented withdrawal takes effect May 31 when South Africa becomes a republic.

Until the last minute, it appeared British Prime Minister Macmillan would work out a compromise formula for keeping "the family of nations" intact.

But he ran into unrelenting demands from other Commonwealth leaders for South Africa to modify its racial policy if it wanted to continue in the "family."

In face of the deadlock, Prime Minister Verwoerd reluctantly withdrew South Africa's application to remain in the Commonwealth when it becomes a republic.

DIEFENBAKER PROMINENT

Canada's Prime Minister Diefenbaker was reported to have played a big part in pressing for a Commonwealth declaration of principles containing a reference to racial equality.

Conference sources said Diefenbaker displayed a tough attitude on the racial discrimination issue.

The quarrel, coming at the 10th post-war conference of Commonwealth leaders, monopolized six sessions since the talks began last Wednesday.

The tense talks went on behind closed doors while conflicting reports flew on whether South Africa would be allowed to stay in the Commonwealth.

One report Tuesday said the other members had agreed to let South Africa remain in the club, but insisted on publicly dissociating themselves from the apartheid policy.

Verwoerd's dramatic move came even as London evening newspapers he a dined: "Verwoerd draws back from brink—peace hopes rise."

NOT ENOUGH

But all of Macmillan's suave behind-scenes diplomacy could not assuage the fierce criticism.

NO INDICATION

As they left Lancaster House, the faces of the prime ministers showed no signs of the tension that surrounded their deliberations.

A spokesman for the South African delegation walked slowly away from the conference building and told reporters:

"It appears as though we have lost. We have withdrawn."

A spokesman for Verwoerd said he had not "walked out" of the conference. Presumably this means South Africa technically remains a member until May 31.

Full coverage of Coyne's report will be carried on P.4 of The Daily Courier Thursday.

OTTAWA (CP) — Highlights of the 1960 Bank of Canada report, tabled today in the Commons:

No price is too great to pay for Canada to achieve full production and minimum unemployment.

Canada's big annual deficits in international trade in goods and services should be reduced.

There should be selective-type increases in expenditure to promote production.

Large-scale monetary expansion aimed at driving down interest rates would be "unsound and dangerous."

The rate of economic growth has been slowing down for some years, with "serious structural distortions and inadequacies in the Canadian economy."

Post emphasis on developing resource industries has weakened Canada's ability to meet its own needs and to compete in export markets.

Canada could have had a faster growth of employment and production with less reliance on imports of foreign investment capital.

Canada's gross national product in the last quarter of 1960 was one-half of one per cent higher than a year earlier.

The money supply rose 5.5 per cent, compared with an increase of 2.6 per cent in the United States.

Peachland TV Plan Discussed

PEACHLAND — As there was not a quorum at the last regular meeting of the Municipal Council, an informal discussion took place, amongst those present, regarding TV reception in the area, and the recommendations put forth by the committee, comprised of D. K. Penfold, J. T. Garraway and R. Chapman. Broadly speaking the recommendations are as follows:

A. That a low watt satellite transmitter be installed at a cost of about $4,000. Tentative site adjacent to the Department of Highways' relay station, on the mountain back of the Greata Ranch.

B. That the forementioned satellite be financed by a short term loan and partly from current revenue. The loan to be for a period of five years.

C. That an increase of one mill in the tax levy be made in 1961 to cover that portion of the capital costs to be met out of current revenue.

D. This will be reduced to approximately 1/2 mill for the following five years to cover the debt incurred.

E. The only other debt to the municipality will be for the power used during the first three years. This will be about $85 a year and will be covered by 1/2 mill referred to above.

F. CHBC Television station will pay all the maintenance costs and will assume the power charge after the first three years.

A public meeting will be held in the Athletic Hall on March 21 at 7:30 p.m. Mr. Wyatt, chief engineer for the Kelowna station is to outline the situation and answer questions. It is hoped to have installations completed by early fall.

Top photo shows the scene of desolation this morning, and the two below show smoke gushing from the windows of Building Number 5 early yesterday, and the flames which later burst forth. The two lower pictures are of a salvage scene and a typical aspect of the big blaze — a fireman playing his hose on the conflagration.

Chambers Split on Move To Change Boundary Line

A committee formed from the Okanagan Mainline Associated Boards of Trade in a recent special meeting voted five for and two against having the boundary line between the Okanagan Boundary and Okanagan Mainline zones moved north of Vernon. If this move is finally approved both Kelowna and Vernon will join the Okanagan Boundary group and leave the Mainline.

From here, the move goes into special committee to get a recommendation for the local boards of trade, and then to quarterly meetings.

Kamloops and Salmon Arm voted against the change. Reason was given by Fred Heatley, Kelowna Chamber of Commerce representative to Council consider widening the bridge over Mill Creek at Water Street or remove it.

It was learned at chamber's meeting last night that the Wenatchee Apple Blossom Festival royalty will visit Kelowna but will not be toured through the local high school because of Easter exams. The royalty will visit sites of interest in the city, such as the Kelowna Chamber Tuesday.

Transportation committee of the Kelowna Chamber Tuesday recommended that the next Chamber meeting Stan Lettner recommended that the communications media in the city join together in an attempt to make the public accident conscious, with view to increasing caution. He suggested that radio and television locally have a "one-minute broadcast silence" whenever a traffic fatality occurred. He said the valley-wide move could include newspapers, who would feature empty 'boxes' on their front pages.

Mr. Lettner handed in his resignation to chamber. He has gone into partnership in a Coast venture, and will be leaving Kelowna.

Chamber is having a hard time deciding on a speaker for their annual dinner meeting. The chairman of the Vancouver Board of Trade was asked but will be overseas. Members will hand out suggestions next meeting, when a decision is expected to be made.

Lian) Anacortes, Wash., and Miss Dorothy Graham of Seattle, Wash. 12 grandchildren, one brother William predeceased in Kelowna a few years ago.

Pallbearers were: H. Schultz, Penticton; W. Jackson, Penticton; H. Price, A. Hoogers, G. Fabian, H. Roehle.

Funeral service was held from Day's Chapel of Remembrance on Monday at 2 p.m. C. Wilson conducted the service, interment in the Lakeview Memorial Park. Day's Funeral Service Ltd. was in charge of the arrangements.

Dinner Held In Honor Of KGE's 'Bill' Spear

A group of packinghouse and allied industry officials have honored an old friend in the person of W. (Bill) Spear, on his retirement as manager of the Kelowna Growers' Exchange, at a dinner at The Capri Motor Inn.

All of those present spoke of the high esteem in which they hold Mr. Spear and for his ready co-operation in all matters affecting the interests of the industry.

Some of those present recounted the early days in the fruit industry in the Okanagan, including the days when the 'base-ball' machine was the newest method of sizing apples.

Outside of this first step in automation, the apples in the Okanagan were sized and graded by the jacks (from orchard-run fruit dumped in bins and cold storage had not yet been considered essential).

Several speakers referred to years when the New Towns of one season were held in common storage and shipped out with the Duchess and Wealthies of the following season.

As a mark of the esteem in which Mr. Spear is held by his old friends, he was presented with a fly casting reel.

In accepting this gift, he assured the gathering that he would still be active in the industry.

The KGE Fire Demonstrated Several Important Points

Despite the presence of the greatest fire ever seen in this city and possibly the whole Okanagan, the people of Kelowna had much to be thankful for on Tuesday.

In the first place they could thank their lucky stars that the morning was still and calm with a slight rain. Had there been a wind from any direction, excepting perhaps from the east, it would have been impossible, it is believed, to prevent the destruction of many more buildings.

Then, too, they can be thankful for the co-operation of adjacent fire departments from Vernon, Rutland and Westbank. These men and their new equipment did a yeoman job and undoubtedly contributed much to confining the fire to the KGE buildings. Indeed, credit is given to the Rutland volunteer department for saving the Laurel Co-op buildings.

Kelowna people can be thankful, too, that there was no trouble with city water pressure. It was the first major test of the new system and it indicated that it could provide plenty of water for such an emergency.

They, the Kelowna people, can be thankful too that they have an earnest and capable and enthusiastic fire brigade which, despite the very serious loss, did all that could be expected, and more, of any fire department and its personnel.

On the other hand, there are one or two points on which the people of Kelowna have no reason to be proud. In December last they voted for a new bylaw to provide additional equipment for the fire brigade. That is all very well, but the hard truth is that, in the case of this fire at least, the vote was too late. The new equipment will not be in service until next September. The fire fighters were hampered by the lack of the right equipment to fight this fire. In the first place, so we are told, a tower would have enabled water to be poured on the fire from above, rather than shot over the walls to disintegrate over the flames. It has been suggested that it might have been possible, had such a tower been available, to confine the fire to Number 3 building. Such a tower is part of the two new units that have been ordered fortunately.

Then, too, the brigade was hampered by the lack of pumper trucks. A pumper truck boosts the output capacity of a single hydrant several times and thus allows for the use of more streams of water. True, the Vernon, Rutland and Westbank trucks complemented the Kelowna truck in this regard, but more could have been used to advantage. Three Kelowna trucks, sans pumps, sat idly throughout the battle, quite useless. Again it is fortunate that a pumper truck was included in the order for new equipment.

However, this thought does occur: will the addition of a new pumper truck be sufficient? Should not Kelowna start now to obtain an additional pumper truck? True, it may be argued that this fire was exceptional; that it was the largest ever experienced here; that another of this size is rather improbable for a score of years. And yet, if we are realistic, we must admit that there are buildings on our main street, as old and as potentially dangerous as those which burned Tuesday. In many of them it would be extremely difficult to fight a fire and every possible stream of water would be needed. Fire equipment is like many other things: you may not need them often but when you do need them you need them in a hurry and very, very urgently.

Much has been said and much could be written about the KGE fire but it would seem at this stage the most appropriate comment is that, regrettable as it was, we can be thankful that it was not as bad as it could have been had there been any wind.

On The Heavyweight Fight

Much could be said about the heavyweight fight on Monday but it seems to us that the man who acquitted himself best—and we do not mean in the ring—was Howard Patterson in his comments both before and after the fight. On the other hand the man—men—who acquitted themselves most poorly were the broadcasters themselves. We've listened to many sports broadcasts but never have we heard as prejudiced announcers as those who handled that fight. In the pre-fight comments and in the comments during the ring, it was perfectly obvious that the announcers were pulling for Patterson. People being what they are it may be expected that their own feelings affect their impartiality somewhat, but certainly not as much as the very biased "reporting" that covered this fight.

The Cancer Story

In 1961 about 45,000 Canadians will get cancer—but, thanks to earlier diagnosis and improvements in treatment, at least half of these will survive for at least five years.

The efforts of the Canadian Cancer Society have contributed much to this advance; and this National Health Week, sponsored for the 17th year by the Health League of Canada, is the time for other Canadians to concern themselves with the problem.

About 30 years ago the record would have been about half as good as it is today, although many factors obscure the statistical picture. In the 30's, for example, Hodgkin's disease and leukemia, now regarded as cancer of the lymphatic system and the blood respectively, were not included in cancer figures. Also, because methods of diagnosis were less efficient, it is probable that some who died of cancer in the 30's were recorded as having died of other causes.

The Canadian Cancer Society which was organized as a lay organization in 1938 by the Canadian Medical Association, has units in about 1,500 communities in every province in Canada. It is through these volunteers that money is raised each April to finance the work of the Society. Last year, a record total of $3,195,434 was raised, and in 1961 the objective is $3,287,000.

"We will make it," says George C.

Hitchman of Toronto, National Campaign Chairman, "because we must make it."

About 34 per cent of the society's funds go into cancer research and fellowships; about 18 per cent is spent in educating the public about cancer, primarily on the theme that there is a much better chance to survive a bout with cancer when it is caught early; and about 30 per cent is spent on services to patients with cancer.

More than 80 per cent of the money used by the affiliated National Cancer Institute of Canada is provided by the Canadian Cancer Society for the purpose of the institute's prime function—research.

The search for a "cure" for cancer has been called "the greatest mobilization of resources—man, mineral, and money—ever undertaken to conquer a single disease." Although it may be many years before a solution is found for this disease, which is second only to heart disease in Canadian death statistics, the part Canada is playing in research is a substantial one and has produced some notable successes.

As the society's president, Frank H. Brown of Vancouver, told a recent meeting of cancer workers, the chances of a "five year survival"—a case of cancer in which the patient lives at least five years has risen from one in four to two in four in the last ten years.

"You can take pride in that fact," said Mr. Brown.

"HOW LONG HAVE YOU HAD THIS FEELING THAT YOU'RE BEING SUBMERGED?"

Nothing Has Gone Right In Congo Since Freedom

By JOSEPH MacSWEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—The menace of civil war and international conflict arose when The Congo received independence from Belgium eight months ago, and the same peril remains today.

Nothing has gone right in The Congo. Even the ceremonial birth of the republic June 30 was marred by a sour event when King Baudouin, who had travelled to Leopoldville to end 30 years of Belgian rule, was handed a verbal slap in the face.

Patrice Lumumba, who wasn't scheduled to make an address, hastily scribbled out a speech and then accused the Belgians of inflicting "atrocious sufferings." Later, the mercurial premier turned about and thanked "the noble Belgians" for freeing The Congo.

President Joseph Kasavubu glanced at Baudouin with apparent scorn at Lumumba's opening remarks and this contrast between the two Congolese leaders was symbolic of the opposing roles they were to take in the fateful struggle about to fall upon their country.

MUTINY FOLLOWED

Five days after independence, part of the Congolese army mutinied and sections of the country were laid open to rampant violence and rape. The United Nations moved quickly in reply to a request for aid, but its operation has resulted in bitter differences between the West and the Soviet Union.

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has threatened unilateral action in the rich Congo whose six provinces—Leopoldville, Equateur, Orientale, Katanga, Kasai and Kivu—are almost as big as Ontario and Quebec together and have a population of 1,000,000.

President Kennedy has said the United States would defend the UN charter by "opposing any attempt by any nation to intervene unilaterally in The Congo."

Now, after eight horror-filled months, Lumumba is dead, slain at 35, and The Congo is splintered into six nominally-independent territories, although Kasavubu claims a rule over about half the country.

Finances are hopelessly disorganized. Frontiers are vague. Jurisdiction over villages in the wild African bush is unclear. Starvation is a companion for thousands. Co-operation on even the most routine administrative matters often depends solely on whims.

SOME RICH, SOME POOR

A couple of governments are rich. Others are penniless, except perhaps for the bank accounts of tribal chiefs.

Here is a rundown on the leading political figures:

Kasavubu, 44, grandson of a Chinese laborer, chief of the 1,000,000-strong Bakongo tribe and father of seven, heads the central government at Leopoldville which is recognized by the UN and most Western countries. He is a former school teacher, clerk in the Belgian administration and an early nationalist.

His premier is Joseph Ileo, 39, a well-educated Congolese with a European background in philosophy and sociology. He favors a loose federation. He is former president of the Congolese Senate.

Their army commander-in-chief, Maj.-Gen. Joseph Mobutu, 30, was an enlisted man under the Belgians. He studied sociology in Brussels and was a Leopoldville newspaper editor long before leading an army coup in support of Kasavubu and against Lumumba last September.

The Leopoldville administration is committed this year to pay the army an amount equal to almost the entire government income, revenue derived mainly from taxes on large international firms.

BACKED BY RUSSIA

Main rival of the Leopoldville government is based in Stanleyville, Orientale capital, and headed by Premier Antoine Gizenga, 41, a former school teacher who has received training in Moscow and Prague and was deputy to Lumumba.

Gizenga is recognized by the Soviet Union and such countries as the United Arab Republic, Guinea and Ghana.

Orientale province is rich with cotton and palm oil but not self-supporting in essential food, and it is the victim of a blockade imposed by Kasavubu and Ileo. Katanga, the richest province which seceded almost immediately after The Congo received independence, is under the grip of President Moise Tshombe, 41, a wealthy businessman friendly to the Belgians. It was in Katanga that Lumumba and two colleagues were slain.

Mine-rich Katanga has its own flag, radio station and central bank. Belgian money pours in. Its army boasts fine discipline under highly-paid European officers. "Why should Katanga be called upon to subsidize the rest of The Congo?" Tshombe asks.

RICH IN DIAMONDS

Next door to Katanga is the wealthy mining state of South Kasai, ruled almost as a feudal holding by Baluba tribal chief Albert Kalonji, 30, a prosperous insurance broker before he entered politics with Kasavubu and Tshombe almost on equal terms. Huge revenues from diamond mines go to his treasury and he aims to keep his own interests safe in any Congolese federation.

But in the midst of comparative wealth in South Kasai, famine-stricken refugees are being cared for by the UN and world contributions.

In mountainous Kivu Province, successive pro-Lumumba heads of the local government have been arrested and deposed one another. Tribal chiefs and village elders have much influence.

Normal life has been almost forgotten. Electricity and gas in the towns have been interrupted. European residents fled to the safety of neighboring Belgian administered Ruanda-Urundi, a UN trust territory.

Last month part of northern Katanga declared itself the independent province of Lulaba, with no specified aims except to allow its Baluba tribesmen to live in peace. This came after a drive by Lumumbist forces but spokesmen say the tribesmen have no interest in politics and are without money or government machinery.

OTTAWA REPORT

Close-Up Looked At

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

This is an extract from the official summary of estimated government expenditures for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1962, compared with the sums granted in the previous year:

"Canadian Broadcasting Corporation:
Total 1961-1962	$81,753,300
Total 1960-1961	$71,728,400
Increase	$10,024,900"

This is an extract from the official Hansard report of proceedings in the House of Commons on March 8, 1961:

"Questions on the Orders of the Day:

Mr. W. C. Henderson (Carleton Place): Mr. Speaker, can the Minister of Labor tell the House the circumstances of Mr. Glen Eceyby who was deleted in the main role on the CBC program "Close-Up" last night, and inform the House whether the National Employment Service is doing anything to secure employment for him?

Hon. Michael Starr (Minister of Labor): Mr. Speaker, the Hon. Member was good enough to give me notice of his intention to ask this question and I checked immediately with the Unemployment Insurance Commission office at Hamilton.

They inform me that Mr. Glen Eceyby is on file at their office. He registered there for employment on September 9. He had quit his previous employment as a salesman at $4,000 per year and had given the reason that there was "no future."

On November 29 he was referred as a salesman at $350 per month to Service Steel and Engineering in Hamilton and worked there until January 30 when he was laid off.

"At about this time he answered an advertisement put out by the CBC requesting a white collar worker for a television program. Apparently he was successful in obtaining this employment and I am informed that."

Mr. Starr: I can ascertain employment and I am informed that."

Mr. E. W. Brunson (Medicine Hat): Will the Minister take into consideration the question of advising his colleague, the Minister of National Revenue (through whom the CBC reports to Parliament, P.N.) that the facts he has produced in this House should be promulgated through the CBC in refutation of the program last night?

Mr. D. V. Pugh (Okanagan Boundary): I should like to direct a supplementary question to the Minister of Labor. Will the Minister ascertain whether or not this person reported his employment with the CBC to the Unemployment Insurance Office in Hamilton?

Mr. Starr: I can ascertain employment and I am informed that."

Quick Construction Work Changes Face Of China

By CLARE McDERMOTT
PEKING (CP)—A rapid construction method, described by officials here as a "combination of politics, economics and technique," is the basis for Red China's present building drive. Chinese cities and the countryside are changing rapidly these days as new factories and blocks of apartments are built with impressive speed. Foreign observers here say

Psychology Aids Selling

By ROBERT TAYLOR
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO (CP)—An interest in applied psychology is important to success in the doll-making business, says toy manufacturer Emanuel Grossman.

He and Arthur Cone are partners in a firm that produces close to 250 different dolls. Bringing out a new doll is always a gamble and before going into production they like to know what a child's reaction is likely to be.

Working with child psychologists and child welfare clinics, they think they have found why little girls — and boys — love dolls.

"A little girl cradling a doll is acting out her role in the family group," says Mr. Grossman. "The child asks her parents questions, then acts out the answers through her doll collection."

REVEAL HOME LIFE
Psychiatrists can learn through observing the mentally troubled child at play. Friction and bickering between dolls frequently reflect discord between the child's father and mother. And, says Mr. Grossman, an emotionally upset child will sometimes reveal inner conflict through immature doll play, perhaps hurling the doll against a wall or stamping on it.

From experience it has been found that fluffy, soft dolls appeal to children between the ages of one and two. Girls around three like bathing and dressing dolls. And at four, as their experience broadens, girls prefer the more complicated play of running a doll's house. The faculty children have of seeing themselves reflected in their dolls has led the firm to produce a doll that can go through stages of illness. Swots may be stuck on to simulate measles or chicken pox. And legs and arms casters, crutches, adhesive tape and bandages are provided for recovery from accidents.

The Toy-Testing Committee, which works with the National Industrial Design Council, says the get-well doll "stimulates social and dramatic play and for many children it helps remove fears about illness and health."

A doll that has passed the 1,000,000 mark in sales is a 20 inch, freckled model that talks. When a string in the back is pulled, it can say: "Will you play with me?" "Tell me a story." "Please brush my hair," and eight other sentences. Another doll to be shown at the Canadian Toy Fair in Montreal Feb. 27 to March 3 is a beak-like toy with shoulder-length, dark hair, soulful eyes and dressed in a nubby sweater, skirt and loafers.

Mr. Grossman says dolls have come a long way since his firm was founded in 1911. Hair is an example. Using synthetic thread, women operators stitch each hair individually into the doll's scalp with a special machine. This allows little girls to wash, curl and set the doll's hair.

And unlike dolls of the past, they are able to withstand the toys that would leave old-time dolls bald.

NO LONGER A STRAP HANGER

NEW YORK (AP)—No more will Vergais P. Bahzi, a straphanger of distinction, have to put up with the madness that is rush hour on the New York subway trains.

The permanent representative of The Congo to the United Nations has received the keys to a 1961 Cadillac for use while he is in New York. Two weeks ago Richard P. Lorber was watching a television program on a typical day in the life of Bahzi.

Included were films of the delegate riding the subway to the United Nations. Lorber, who owns an automobile agency in Warren, R.I., was distressed. It struck him as inappropriate that the delegate weighted with the grave events in The Congo, should have to undergo such punishment.

Lorber dashed off a letter to the delegate, offering him the use of a car.

A few days later, Bahzi accepted, saying: "I am deeply touched by your kind offer. . . . As you have seen, I am a family man; we are five including the baby and therefore I need a big enough car to accommodate us all."

"Formidable!" Bahzi exclaimed in French Thursday as Lorber introduced him to the myriad knobs and power buttons of the Cadillac.

Lorber handed the keys to Bahzi outside the United Nations and offered to replace the car every six months with a new one.

TANKER LEAVES CORCUSSION (AP)—The Canadian tanker Andros Fortune left Spain Sunday for Hamburg under tow by two tugs. The ship was temporarily repaired here after being damaged Feb. 27 when she and the Liberian tanker Point Lacre collided.

PNE GETS MONEY
VANCOUVER (CP)—A motion to withhold five-year-plan funds for a livestock building at the PNE was rejected by city council here Tuesday. However, the PNE may not get the full $500,000 originally approved by council last year. It was to get half the money in 1960 but there now is a question whether or not the council could allocate funds from this year's budget.

BYLAW FOR VOTERS
VANCOUVER (CP)—Ratepayers here will vote on another bylaw to sell International Airport to the federal government. But this time they will be given an alternative: sell, or put up about $15,000,000 for a new passenger terminal.

SLINGSHOTS BANNED IN NANAIMO (CP)—Merchants in this district have agreed to ban the sale of slingshots to minors. The voluntary action followed a campaign by the local Council of Women to make the use of slingshots illegal.

BUHDDIST PILGRIMS
VANCOUVER (CP)—The largest airlift of Buddhist pilgrims in Canadian aviation history will get under way here Tuesday when 600 Bhuddists leave for Japan. They are the vanguard of some 550 pilgrims who will fly to their homeland within the next few months to celebrate the 750th anniversary of Shinran, a leading disciple of Bhudda.

BOXLA HALL OF FAME
NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A city alderman has suggested a hall of fame for Canadian lacrosse should be established here. Council agreed to strike a committee to discuss the idea submitted by Ald. Ken Wright. The proposed new civic centre and sports arena was suggested as a site for the sports museum.

SERVICE CONSIDERED
VANCOUVER (CP)—A car and passenger ferry service to the Powell River and Comox later transferred it to Guy de Lusignan, ex-king of Jerusalem.

tember. O. H. New, president of Coast Ferries, states the service is dependent upon construction of a landing ramp at Comox and a firm commitment that there would be no subsidized government competition.

DAMAGES AWARDED
VANCOUVER (CP)—Damages totalling about $40,000 have been awarded against a Hedley motorist, Douglas Cade, for injuries suffered by four occupants of another car in a collision on Hope-Princeton Highway last year. Injured in the collision were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bliss and their daughter, Cherry, and Mrs. Margaret Harris. The award was made in Supreme Court.

CHURCH DESECRATION
VANCOUVER (CP)—Thieves broke into everything but the safe when they ransacked a city church. The desecration of Metropolitan Tabernacle was discovered Monday. Church authorities said an attempt was made to remove the dial off the safe, but it was not opened. A mission coin box was pried open and an unknown amount of change taken.

In 1191, Richard I conquered the island of Cyprus, selling it to the Knights Templars who later transferred it to Guy de Lusignan, ex-king of Jerusalem.

Press Army Gets Ready

JERUSALEM (AP)—The biggest army of reporters ever to cover a criminal trial has registered for the proceedings against Adolf Eichmann, due to start a month from today.

The total seeking credentials is 560, representing 35 nations. If all show up, they will double the number of correspondents who covered the Neurnberg war crimes trials in 1946.

Eichmann was a high officer in the German Gestapo during the Second World War. He is accused of complicity in the deaths of millions of Jews. Israeli agents captured him in Argentina last year and brought him to Israel.

Jerusalem's Bet Ha'am—community centre — has been converted into a huge court room. Of its 757 seats 474 have been allotted to reporters. Those who cannot get seats every day will follow the hearings from a press room through small transistor radios with earphones.

FOUR LANGUAGES USED
The radios can be tuned to Hebrew, English, French or German translations. The proceedings will be conducted in Hebrew, with simultaneous translation into the other languages.

The remaining 283 seats in the courtroom are reserved for official observers from foreign governments, foreign diplomats, Israeli officials, judges, lawyers and representatives of political organizations.

To transmit the heavy volume of news reports and photographs the ministry of posts is setting up a special communications centre within the court compound itself. It is equipped to handle messages by wireless, overseas telephone calls, voice broadcasts and radiophotos.

Radio circuits will connect the press room with New York, London, Moscow, Paris, Rome, Vienna and Bern. Next to 20 teleprinters are 27 telephone booths, 22 reserved entirely for overseas calls.

The Kelowna and District Horticultural Society held its annual meeting on Wednesday, March 1st. Guest speaker for the evening was District Horticulturalist Mr. Frank Morton. His topic—"Clean up in the Garden and Pest Control."

There were also guest speakers. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Worman spoke on growing begonias and showed pictures of them. Mr. Patterson accompanied his talk on shrubs with coloured slides. WELCOME FOR A LADY MINISTER

Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, prime minister of Ceylon and first of her sex to attend a British Commonwealth conference of prime ministers, is greeted with a bouquet upon arrival in London from Colombo. She was elected to the

UNESCO Project Undertaken By Canadian Women's Clubs

The Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women started 1961 with a new project designed to interest its more than 165 Canadian clubs in helping women in the Middle East and in Africa, through the UNESCO gift coupon plan.

In charge of the project is Miss Nazia Dene, Toronto, a National Vice-President and the Federation's United Nations Chairman.

Aim is to raise sufficient money by the end of April to enable Canadian Federation to purchase UNESCO coupons necessary to provide needed material and equipment for the Hamallah Handicraft Society in Jordan and to at least build a chalet for women students at a residential adult college at Awudome, Ghana.

Ways and means of raising the money is being left to individual clubs, active in every province of Canada.

The Hamallah Handicraft Society in Jordan was established by a former UNESCO Fellow who is now working with UNRWA. It offers young women of Hamallah the chance to learn a useful trade while receiving just compensation for their work—but not enough to obtain material and equipment so badly needed to expand the work and to train more eager women to become self-supporting.

At the residential adult college in Ghana, much in the way of equipment and housing is needed to make this project serve the women of Ghana to its fullest potential.

Money is needed to build small chalets to house students, to purchase equipment to train adult women students in many fields and to improve their living conditions.

Both these efforts tie in with the aims and objectives of Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women which include support of the work of United Nations.

United Nations Fellowship award of the Canadian Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs this year goes to Marie LaBrecque of Acton Vale, Que., it was announced recently by Miss Una MacLean, National President of the Federation and the first Fellow in 1954.

Miss Helen Yeo of Charlottetown, P.E.I., a former winner of the Federation Fellowship, is Chairman of the Committee which made the selection. There were nine applicants.

The $500 Fellowship, open to any member of any club affiliated with the Canadian Federation, is tenable at the Session of the Human Rights Commission which commenced in New York on February 20.

The 1961 Fellowship winner is a graduate of the University of Montreal College of St. Maurice at Ste. Hyacinthe in 1959 and has done post-graduate work with Webster College at St. Louis, Miss. She speaks English, French and Spanish fluently.

Mme. LaBrecque has done free lance radio and television work and has written newspaper and magazine articles.

School Teacher's Letter Causes Shower Of Gifts

SMITH'S COVE, N.S. (CP)—A letter from a schoolteacher to his Nova Scotia home has helped relieve suffering in an isolated Northern Ontario community.

Donald MacBeath, a teacher with the department of Indian Affairs at Lansdowne House, 150 miles northwest of Nakina, told of the plight of his community in a letter to his family living in this village on the Annapolis Basin.

He said that one family of eight had only half a can of milk a day and mentioned other staples needed in the community.

The letter aroused sympathy in his family. The children told their schoolmates. The result was a shower of gifts for men, women and children, packed into five large boxes and shipped to provincial Red Cross headquarters in Halifax. The parcels were then airdropped by the RCAF.

MIX MIXTURE

EDMONTON (CP)—There is a mixture of tastes regarding food mixes in Canada, says a baking industry official. Angel food and chiffon mixes are strong in the West; pie crusts in Quebec and exotic and off-beat mixes in the Maritimes.

RASPBERRY-COCOONUT COFFEE CAKE

1. Measure 1/2 c. lukewarm water into a large bowl; stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar. Sprinkle with contents of 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins., then stir well.
2. Scald 1/4 c. milk; stir in 1/4 c. granulated sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt and 3 tbsps. soft shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add to dissolved yeast; stir in 1 well-beaten egg and 1 1/2 c. pre-sifted all-purpose flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough — about 1 1/2 c. more. Knead dough on floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 1/2 hours.
3. Punch down dough. Turn out and knead until smooth. Divide into 3 equal portions. Cover with a tea towel; let rest 10 mins. Roll out each portion into a 9-inch square. Combine 1/2 c. thick raspberry jam and 1/4 c. shredded coconut; spread to within 1/2 inch of edges on two squares of dough; pile in greased 9-inch square pan; top with remaining square of dough. Press down edges lightly. Grease top. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk — about 45 mins. Bake in mod. hot oven (375°) 25 to 30 mins. Turn out; place top side up on wire rack.
4. Combine 1/2 c. sifted icing sugar, few drops vanilla and sufficient milk to make a rather stiff icing. Spread hot cake with 3 tbsps. raspberry jam. Cool cake slightly then drizzle with icing and sprinkle lightly with a little coconut. Yield: 1 coffee cake.

Leopold Fires Three —Jankowski Hangs On

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Coach Guy Kyle has few worries about his league-leading Calgary Stampede's leading goal scorer, as the Western Hockey League's leading scorer is that his two high-scoring wingers both are going after the same prize, a fact which keeps them riling pucks at opposing nets.
Ron Leopold and Lou Jankowski are both in an excellent position to break the league goal-scoring record.
Leopold fired three goals
Tuesday night to lead Stampede to a 6-3 victory over seventh-place Edmonton Flyers. Now with 49 goals, he is approaching the record 53 scored by Taroma's Doug Adam in 1952-53.
Jankowski got one goal to raise his season's output to 48.
Other Calgary marksmen were Wally Hergesheimer and Gord Vejprava.

BAGS TWO FOR FLYERS

Len Haley scored twice for Edmonton, Warren Hynes, Ray
Brunel and Roger Dejorjy once each.
The victory gave Stampede
a two-point lead over second-place Portland Buckaroos, who have a game in hand.
The clubs were tied 1-1 after the first period but Calgary led 4-3 at the end of the second.
The Stampede will have only two centre men in Edmonton tonight. Vejprava injured his arm in Tuesday's second period and Sid Finney, who had a goal, will not return until Saturday.

KEPT CLOSE UNTIL THIRD

Haley gave Edmonton a 1-0 lead in the first, but Vejprava tied it with less than two minutes remaining in the period.
Jankowski put Stampede ahead
2-1 in the second but Hynes tied it again. Leopold made it 3-2 and then Brunel evened things before Leopold again gave Stampede the lead.
Haley made it 4-4 in the third period but Leopold scored while Flyers were short-handed and Hergesheimer got his 33rd goal of the season to make it 6-4 for Calgary.
Dejorjy brought it to 6-5 with 2½ minutes remaining.

Pr. Rupert Favored In B.C. Series

VANCOUVER (CP)—The cream of British Columbia's high school basketball teams today collide here in the 16th annual B.C. High School Boys' Invitational Basketball tournament.

Sixteen teams, who survived various preliminary tournaments, began action at 12:30 a.m. The tournament concludes Saturday night.

Prince Rupert Rainmakers, runners-up to powerful Vancouver College a year ago, are favored in the current tournament. Five of last year's squad return with the 1961 team and College did not reach the tournament finals.

Facing the Rainmakers will be big John Olsen, an all-star last year and chosen the most valuable player in the Northern
B.C. zone playoffs which Prince
Rupert easily won.

FIRST TIME

Prince Rupert's ascension to the favorites role marks the first time in history that a Lower Mainland team has not carried these colors.

And it's conceivable that all four Lower Mainland teams could drop their opening round matches, something that has never happened. Only Victoria (1959) and Mission (1954) have ever beaten out Vancouver district teams for the title.

Other teams entered are Sumnerland, Oak Bay, Abbotsford, Creston, Mennoite Education Institute (Clearbrook), Tso-lum, North Vancouver, Victoria, Surrey and Alberni from outside Vancouver, and Lord Byng, King Edward, Magee and Lester Pearson from Greater Vancouver.

Sumnerland, Creston and North Vancouver's Delbrook
League deal in which they acquired quarterback Billy Wade, sending quarterback Zeke Brat-kowski to Los Angeles Rams.
The Bears acquired Wade for defensive back Erich Barnes plus another player or a Bears draft choice.

Bratkowski, 29, had alternated with Ed Brown at quarterback for Chicago. Both finished at the bottom of the list in league passing. Wade is expected to become the Bears' No. 1 quarterback.

TODAY'S DRAW

Oak Bay vs. Abbotsford;
Creston vs. MEI; Tso-lum vs. the 1st in league Delbrook;
Lester Pearson vs. King Edward;
Magee vs. Sur-reys; Alberni vs. Lord Byng.

Trail Juveniles Take Opener At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP) — Jack McUnn scored on a long shot from centre ice at 15:16 of the final period to give Trail Smoke Eaters a 6-5 victory over Nanaimo here Tuesday night.

Second game in the best-of-three British Columbia juvenile hockey series will be played here tonight with the third, if necessary, Thursday.

McUnn's goal, his second of the game, broke a 5-5 tie. It was a heartbreaking loss for Nanaimo, who were playing with only two lines. They had battled from behind an early 3-1 deficit to level the score 3-3 after 40 minutes.

In the final period they jumped in front 3-4 on a goal by Gary Hill, but couldn't hold it.

Garry Fero brought Trail on even terms midway through the period and McUnn wrapped it up.

Nanaimo missed two great scoring chances after pulling their netminder with 20 seconds remaining.

Fero and Mel Unger matched McUnn's output for Trail. Alf Walshe and Harvey Then scored two each for Nanaimo with Hill getting the other.

Bill Warwick Would Swap Trophies With Smokies

By LORNE BRUCE

EDMONTON (CP) — Bill Warwick said Monday the trophy he now has in his restaurant is the one Penitents V's were given when they won the world hockey championship in 1955.

The 36-year-old Warwick who played for Penitents then with his brothers Dick and Grant offered to give the trophy to Trail Smoke Eaters if the British Columbia team will give him the one "we sent over in 1956."

Trail Smoke Eaters won the world hockey championship by beating Russia 5-1 in Switzerland Sunday.

Warwick last played organized hockey for the Kamloops Elks in the 1956-57 season.

The trophy, displayed prominently in the lounge of a restaurant in Edmonton, is 18 inches high, is made of silver with a wooden base and trim, and has engraved on a metal plaque:

"1955—Sweden
"1954—CCCP Russia
"1955—Penitents V's"

The world cup may be kept for one year by the winners and the Warwicks sent back a cup to tournament officials to be given to the 1956 winners.

Doubt about "who had what cup" arose when the Warwicks made the offer to any world hockey championship team that if they figured they had the wrong cup, "we'll trade them for the one we have."

That offer was made to the Russian world championship club in 1956 and to every other club since then. But no club has accepted the offer, possibly fearing they might be the victims of an even greater hoax should they give up the real cup for the fake.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, on a recent visit to Edmonton, asked the Warwicks to tell him whether the trophy here is the real one. The Warwicks told Richard if he took off the base there is a Swiss jeweller's trade mark inside the real cup. Richard couldn't dismantle the cup without a wrench and the Warwicks declined to lend him one.

Russin won the world championship in 1956, Sweden in 1957, Whitby, Ont., for Canada in 1958, Belleville, Ont., in 1959, the United States in 1960.

STILL KEEPS MUM

Bill Warwick wouldn't say Monday that the cup all those teams had held was a fake but he did make his offer to Trail, 1961 champions.

Monday Bill said (and he emphasized he was speaking for brothers Dick and Grant) he was happy a Western Canada club had retained the record of never losing a world or Olympic hockey championship, and he added:

"If the Trail hockey club would like to have the trophy we (the Warwicks) now have, which I would say is the cup we won in 1955, and if they give us the trophy we sent over in 1956, and if they want to make arrangements for its homecoming, I would be there with the cup we won in 1955."

Asked about the cable he sent to the Trail team and described in a broadcast Sunday by manager Bobby Kromm of Smoke Eaters as terrific, Bill replied the message said:

"Six years ago today was V's day. No reason why today can't be Smokies day. Good luck. Bill Warwick."

Warwick was injured with Kamloops in 1956-57 and the only time he has played since was last year when he and his brothers toured Poland.

Prince George Enters Two In Golden Gloves

PRINCE GEORGE (CP) — A former Golden Boy will be one of two Prince George boxers entered in the 1961 Vancouver Optimist Golden Gloves boxing championships March 24-25.

Southpaw Harold Mann, 1958 Optimist welterweight champion and Golden Boy and Thor Larson, 26-year-old light-welterweight champion of Norway, will represent the Prince George Lions Athletic Club in the Vancouver tournament. Larson will fight in the 139-pound division.

Mann, the current Canadian amateur welterweight champion will enter the 156-pound division.

NHL STARS

Detroit's Norm Ullmann who scored four goals, including the winner, as Red Wings defeated New York Rangers 5-2 in Detroit.

Yanks May Open Season Minus Relief Pitcher

Beset by ambushes along rookie catcher Jesse Gonder's exhibition trail, the line drive just before the winless Yankees lost their fourth consecutive game 4-1 to Milwaukee Braves.

The portly left-hander was struck on the left wrist during batting practice Tuesday by being brought up from the International League, suffered an oblique fracture of the ulna bone. He will be out of action three to four weeks.

In other action along the Grapefruit League, Los Angeles Dodgers gave big Don Newcombe four runs in the first inning and went on to hand the defending world champion Pittsburgh Pirates their first loss, 8-3.

Kansas City Athletics shaded Washington Senators 2-1 on the five-hit pitching of Jim Archer, Dick Hall and Bob Hartman, while Cincinnati Reds cut loose with a power attack, including four homers, to whip Detroit Tigers 7-4.

Rookie Clarence Coleman's fourth single, with two out in the bottom of the ninth inning, gave Philadelphia Phillies an 8-7 decision over St. Louis Cardinals.

SOCCER CLUB MEETS TONIGHT AS LEAGUE PLANS OPENING

Dear Doctor: What can be this cod liver oil can save you done for too much electricity in four pounds every year? the body?

Mrs. A. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: Does your comb crackle when you run it through your hair? Or do you feel a shock when you walk across a thick carpet and touch someone? The comb or carpet generates the charge—not you.

Don't fall for quick electrical remedies! Any time you feel "overcharged" touch a water faucet and the electricity will drain down the pipes into the ground.

DIZZY SPELLS

Dear Doctor: When I turn my head, my face becomes deathly white and I become dizzy. Why?

Mr. J. E.

Dear Mr. E.: Tiny pressure thermostats in the main arteries of the neck may be squeezed by muscles or a tight collar. Mistaking this squeezing for high blood pressure, the thermostats relax your blood vessels and slow your heart.

As blood pressure falls, your face pales, you feel woozy and break into a cold sweat. Let your doctor decide how to treat it!

DAILY DOSES

Dear Doctor: Is it harmful to take one teaspoon of cod liver oil daily? I am 67 years old.

Mrs. J. A.

Dear Mrs. A.: Some brands of cod liver oil contain more vitamins than others. But the amount in one teaspoonful won't harm you unless you're bothered by calcium-containing kidney stones. A teaspoonful of cod liver oil supplies 45 calories. If you're battling excess weight, stopping

GREEDY DOCTOR?

Dear Doctor: My doctor won't make a house call unless I pay extra for living away out of town. Isn't he being greedy?

Mrs. J. S.

Dear Mrs. S.: Recently a man rushed into a doctor's office. "Come quick, Doc!" he demanded. "My wife's dying! I'll ride out with you to show the way."

When the car finally pulled up in front of his house, the man paid the doctor.

"My wife's not really dying," he explained. "But no taxi would bring me out here for less than $15. You did for your usual $7 fee!"

DOCTOR WON'T TELL

Dear Doctor: I don't see how I could possibly have VD. Still, I'm afraid to consult a local doctor because gossip spreads fast in our small community.

Miss M. U.

Dear Miss U.: Fear not! Cure the trouble before complications set in. Trichomonas and other germs produce the same symptom.

No understanding doctor spreads gossip and no gossiping doctor understands the law. He is legally bound to safeguard all patients' secrets.

The bidding:

South dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Opening lead—king of spades. When declarer has a choice between two different lines of play, he naturally selects the one that offers the greater chance of success. He makes what is called the percentage play.

For an application of this principle we have this hand where South is in six diamonds. West leads a spade and declarer sees he cannot be defeated unless he loses two club tricks. So declarer rivets all his attention to the problem of holding himself to one club loser.

He realizes the adverse clubs have to lose two tricks regardless of what he does. But he may be so divided that he will also know that if the clubs are feebly divided he can make the contract.

Declarer lays his plans accordingly. He wins the ace of spades and ruffs a spade. Then, after taking two rounds of trumps, he cashes three rounds of hearts, discarding a club from dummy. Next he enters dummy with a trump and leads a club, East following low.

Now comes the crucial play. If South plays the ace of clubs, he makes the contract. No defense can beat him. Let's say West plays the ten on the ace. South exits with a low club and West wins with the queen.

West is forced to return a spade or a heart. Whichever he does, South discards dummy's last club and ruffs in his hand. He then trumps a club in dummy and his work is done.

It may be argued that this method of play would fail if it turned out that East had been dealt the K-Q-2 of clubs. In such case only the play of the jack, not the ace, would make the slam.

This is true enough, but the fact is that the play of the ace will win more often than the play of the jack. The ace play wins whenever West holds the singleton or doubleton king or queen, or the triplet king or queen.

These combinations occur far more often than those where East has the K-Q.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Personal interests and finances continue to be governed by fine planetary aspects. In the late P.M., however, an adverse trend suggests that you be especially tactful and understanding with your business associates.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates a highly satisfactory year ahead. Phases of your life most generously influenced by fine planetary aspects are financial and romantic.

To give you the picture briefly, excellent monetary periods will occur for the next six months in November, late December and the first three months of 1962. All of these periods indicate fine returns through increased earning power, gains through sound financial transactions.

Romance will be highlighted in the current month; also in May and June. If you are single, there is a possibility of sudden marriage during these periods and, if you are already wed, marriage ties will be strengthened. Avoid fatigue and nervous tension in September, however, since they could affect health adversely.

A child born on this day will possess the faculty of combining realism with idealism, and will be extremely capable in emergencies.

Politicos Wait On Next Move

By MICHAEL WEIGALL
RABAT, Morocco (Reuters)—Morocco's divided political parties are jockeying for position as they wait to see how far King Hassan II is ready to travel down the road of democratic reform.

The 31-year-old new monarch began to receive political leadership at his place here last week, but not a word has leaked out of his intentions on issues such as the drafting of Morocco's new constitution.

The main opposition party, the left-wing National Union of Popular Forces boycotted the king's proclamation ceremony and called for the election of a constituent assembly.

One of King Hassan's first acts after his accession was to announce he would retain control of the government, which his late father took over in May, 1960. The government is composed mainly of members of the conservative Istiqlal Party.

The split in political life here dates from 1959, when Istiqlal's left wing broke away to form the National Union, which in last year's municipal elections made strong gains in the towns at Istiqlal's expense.

In the series of talks, Hassan also received Mahjoubi Aharrane, secretary-general of the other main Moroccan party, the popular movement, which occupies a position between Istiqlal and the National Union.
